I say -2 but that is only approximate, as the scale is manipulated throughout the first half of this animation. Manipulation of the scale parameter (which does not change the overall size of the box, just the way its structured!) and many other parameter manipulations such as depth of focus and perspective were made possible for this animation - by the addition of a key framing option to the software used The audio used is "kukta" by optick and ciprian - courtesy of 90watts.com all rights reserved teamfresh
