It's true that some people start up a business on the Internet with very little money but this leaves them with some huge disadvantages: 1) Less professional customer experience. This is shown in the look of the website, the communication with the product creator and the product itself. With proper funding you can give your business that added boost that gives you the professional image you need to succeed online. 2) Much higher failure rate. People who start their business on a shoestring cannot sustain any kind of down month in their business because of lack of funds. If an unexpected cost arises, the business is out of business because of this one little expense. 3) Much longer time frame for profit. With no funding a business cannot take advantage of paid advertising which will catapult a business to profit in just a months time. With no funding a business is forced to use free advertising methods which can take years to become effective. Funding Will Turbo Charge Your Success! Even if you just secure a small investment you're going to be WAY ahead of the pack as far as professionalism. By getting funding you'll be able to get a truly professional website up and running as well as a professional customer service system which will give you a professional image in the eye of your customers. You will also be able to go from no customers to loads of customers literally overnight because you can pay for advertising that starts producing leads and customers the very same day. These are things that the shoestring marketers could never do and is the exact reason you can smoke them with just a little funding.
