Brand New Dog Training Website & Graphics Heres what youll get Professional mini-site template Box eCovers Paperback eCovers CD eCover Custom guarantee Call to action buttons Custom bullets and ticks Animated banners How to make good use of these graphics? .Use the template and graphics on your own website,give it an awesome makeover ! Grab some dog training PLR material (Google it) and create your own product out of it. Make use of all the graphics provided to dress up your sales page and use the banners and package graphics in your affiliate program so that your affiliates can promote your product easily for you! Use the PLR material and graphics to create a short video presentation. You can create a slide show using PowerPoint and play some background music. The last page in the slide will have a call-to-action to go to your link. This could be to your own website or your affiliate link or masked affiliate link. There are tools out there that will convert .ppt files to videos such as iVideoArticles. Place the video on your landing page,your blog,or put it on YouTube. Simple videos like this dont require you to do a personal presentation and can easily generate traffic for free. Use the template itself as a review landing page to promote a Dog Training product on the ClickBank marketplace as an affiliate. You could search the ClickBank marketplace for the best dog training affiliate program with the highest gravity,use their promotional material and copy and paste and article or review content onto your site. Youll have a unique landing page different from every other affiliate and will grab the attention of the visitor. Use the template to start a niche dog training blog. Grab some PLR dog training articles,re-write them,or hire someone to do this,and submit them to your blog on a weekly basis. The search engines will pick this up especially if its unqiue content and will start sending traffic your way. Create a short PDF report on dog separation anxietyor how to stop your dog barkingor similar derived from PLR material,and submit it to free eBook listing websites so people can download it. Inside you should leave a link to a related dog training product with your affiliate link! Use the paperback graphic when submitting your PDF to increase downloads. This method alone will get you free traffic and passive income. Create a brandable PDF report. If you already own a dog training product,allow your affiliates to rebrand the links inside with their affiliate link to your product. Products like PDFBrandable allow your affiliates to change specific elements of your report without actually modifying it completely. This gives you control, and makes life for your affiliates much easier. Encouraged affiliates means for sales for you! Use the dog training template to build your own squeeze page. Give your subscribers the PDF report you made earlier in exchange for a name and email address. Then follow-up with emails that provide free advice and kindly remind them about the dog training product you're promoting (through your affiliate link). Do all the above, package it together, present each component in detail and sell resell rights to your own list. Selling resell rights only (not master resell rights) means you stop others from selling it like you are keeping you in business. This method is great if you don't want to get involved with the end user pet owners. If you're selling resell rights to your own list, why not include an affiliate program to go with it? Pay your affiliates anywhere from 75-100 commission so that you can build your own list of resellers by placing an opt-in form on your download page. Anytime you get hold of a product you want to sell resell rights to, you'll have a list of people waiting to hear from you! I'm sure there are many other techniques that I have not mentioned, so please feel free to share your own strategies! License [YES] Can use for personal use
