Here's a sample Email that promotes Search Engine Optimization; Subject: 1# Rankings, 1000s Of Backlinks And A Heapload Of Traffic.. Hi {!firstname}, let me ask you a question.. Is your website search-engine friendly? Do you include tags, image tags, tags, etc.. into your website? Do you format the content of your webpages to make it easy for the search engines to find your site and optimizing your keywords? Do you make it easy for visitors to navigate through your website? ... You see, when I first started creating my own website I took no notice to all those 'rules'. I just wrote an article, put up some AdSense on it and prayed for visitors... and you know what?.. nothing happened. Getting traffic to my website through the search engines was a like a huge 1000-piece puzzle for me.. In fact, I was so stubborn that I would spent days and nights banging my head against the desk of the computer trying to figure out how to get my website up to the top of the search engine results page... But it was no use.. No matter what I altered, tweaked, re-wrote and uploaded, it didn't seem to make an ounce of difference.. It wasn't until I started taking EXPERT advice and training material that I started to see my website climb in the rankings! Now when I look back it would be so painful to go through it all again.. So this is why this week Stephen and I have created a new video course entirely on Search Engine Optimization with NO STONE UNTURNED!
