The Christmas Angel - A Christmas Carol Book Short summary of this enchanting Christmas Carol Book

The Christmas Angel: The old Miss Terry spends her Christmas Eve getting rid of toys from her childhood toy box. She tosses them onto the sidewalk in front of her house, One by one and then secretly watches the little scenes that occur, which seem to confirm her belief that true Christmas spirit does not exist. But unexpected, the Angel from her childhood Christmas tree appears to show Miss Terry that she has not yet witnessed the final act of each of those little dramas... Living Age magazine in 1910 wrote about The Christmas Angel, Not since Charles Dickens laid down his pen forever has there been a prettier Christmas story written, one more full of the real spirit of Christmas or conveying a more seasonable lesson. The author Abbie Farwell Brown spend her entire life (1875-1927) in Boston, USA. Most of her stories, like The Christmas Angel were written for children and it was in the field of childrens books, perhaps, that she achieved her greatest success.
