Headline: Automate Your Online Appointments! Note: While JVManager is used in the example, Turbo Secretary works with any script that auto-generates usernames and passwords. The username and password are needed by the user in order to access his own account in the protected area on your server. How to Start When you get access to a Members area, you can have access to the Turbo Secretary system. Login to the Members area and try to load a secretary.phppage. If the Area supports the Secretary system, youll be logged into the System. The System will create a Session for each Members area youve logged in from. Every Session allows you to create Appointments to contact the support team
