Everybody is looking to make more money, and waves and waves of people are crashing on the shore of the internet and buying a load of products then being sucked back into the sea of normal work after they realise a lot of the stuff they buy either doesn't work or is nowhere near as easy as they make it out to be. But making money online IS possible, and often it is a lot easier than people think, introducing the ultimate business - affiliate marketing. You just direct people to other websites to buy things, and if they do then you get a percentage of the sale for referring them, that means no dealing with customers and no dealing with stock or products or any kind - leave that to the merchants, you just send them the traffic and get checks in the mail! As an easy example then did you know Amazon has an affiliate program? All you do is get people to visit Amazon through your link and if they buy anything within 24 hours of clicking through, you get a percentage of the total sale amount! (and people are buying things from Amazon constantly!). It is hard to pin down exact numbers but according to Wikipedia then MarketingSherpa estimated that in 2006 affiliates worldwide were paid the equivalent of $6.5 billion in bounty and commissions, yes that is billion! How would you like a slice of that pie? We may be in the grip of a recession but people are still buying things constantly, they are just more wary of prices now and most reports point to people going online for their purchases more and more to get the best deals! This means while brick and mortar businesses are closing all around us then online businesses are thriving! I already mentioned that I think affiliate marketing is the ultimate business as you don't need to worry about keeping customers happy, shipping products and having things lost in the post, keeping stock, having staff answering the phones etc - all the nasty stuff the online stores have to deal with! But also having an online business is one of the few businesses you can start on a shoestring budget and fit round your dayjob until you are earning enough to go full time! Most other businesses require you to quit your job and risk all or nothing to get started, not to mention all the cash you need for offices, storage space, equipment, advertising, signs etc! Now is the time to learn the skills you need to profit from the internet, here is what you could be learning just minutes from now! How to build your business with the future in mind (so many people get this wrong which means they crash and burn after just a few months!) How to get FREE traffic... 3 places you can use so you dont even need to create your own website to get started! (great to make some money first then reinvest it!). The secret to getting into almost any affiliate network (and what to do to change their mind even if you get turned down!) The place you absolutely must start off in your affiliate marketing business, where you can get commissions on products as high as 75! Exactly how to choose the hot offers that are selling like hot cakes so you can make sure you dont get any duds! How to get your feet wet and make sure you have a winning niche before your commit too much time to it... Exactly how to scale things up until you are earning as much money as you want from your affiliate empire! and so much more! Imagine being able to tell your boss to shove it and avoiding the awful morning commute! Im not trying to sell you an impossible dream here, Im not trying to say that if you buy this guide suddenly the sky will open up and start raining money down on you while you sip pina coladas on the beach, it DOES require work to get started and you ARE going to make mistakes, you are going to struggle with things and have to learn the things you need to know to get traffic and take your business to the next level. But wouldnt you rather being doing that for YOUR business rather than learning things and working hard just to make your boss money? I used to hate learning new things at work, it was always boring and more often than not totally useless anyway - but now I relish the challenge of learning new things and adding to my arsenal of affiliate marketing tactics, and the more I learn and apply then the more I can earn! Next time you have an awful day at work will you be able to secretly smile at the thought that you are building a way to get out of that hellhole? Or will you just have to grin and bear it like everyone else? If you want to start making money with affiliate marketing then you need My Affiliate Empire Are you going to take action and start to make money online or just dream about it and watch as others do it? There is a ton of money to made online, but only for those people who stop messing around with get-rich-quick schemes and start to build a real business - learn how to make real money with affiliate marketing with My Affiliate Empire.
