Your Complete Guide To Using And Profiting From Web 2.0 Dear Friend, What Do I Mean By Web 2.0 Without getting into a lengthy explanation, Web 2.0 can be defined, at least partially as an online community that is defined by the participants of that community. Sites like MySpace, Squidoo, and Wikipedia as well as a simple blog are all examples of Web 2.0. The purpose of this guide is to tell you exactly what Web 2.0 is and how to profit from it BIG TIME. Traffic, Traffic, Traffic The number one ingredient for online success is traffic to your website. It is impossible to make any money if no one ever visits your site. Traditionally you would use some paid methods such as Google Adwords or Ezine advertising. These would quickly drain your resources and often the result is that you spent more money on advertising than you did on sales. That is where Web 2.0 comes in! Visitors Are Worth... How much would 1000 extra visitors to your site be worth? What about 10,000 or 100,000? What if you could drive all of these visitors to your site for nothing? Letss do a conservative estimate. Suppose you built a Wordpress Blog about dog training and put an Adsense block on it. Assume you make 30 cents per click. A well optimized blog should get at least a 6 Click through rate. So lets do some math. $1000 \times 6 \times $0.30 = \18.00 $10000 \times 6 \times $0.30 = \180.00 $100000 \times 6 \times $0.30 = \1800.00 This method of monetization represents the worst possible income. Placing some affiliate products and selling links will skyrocket your earnings. You can duplicate this method over and over again. Do you see how important this could be to your business? You Must Learn About Web 2.0 Before You Can Learn To Profit From It This guide will tell you all about Web 2.0 starting from its beginnings and bringing you right up to its relevance in todays world.
