...'So you have to watch out when someone offers you a miraculous way of ranking highly in the search engines, think to yourself whether that would be white, grey or black hat. Google can and will penalise your site or even drop it from their database altogether if they think you are engaged in black hat activities. It is always better to go for white and grey hat techniques so you can build a solid reputation with Google and go for long-term success rather than rankings that may only be there for a day or two before Google catches you and zaps your site!'...
