Dear Friend, If you've spent any time online, then you've probably heard of blogs - the most potent and lucrative search engine marketing strategy working today. But, did you know that the majority of blogs are abandoned in just a few months after their creation? This makes you wonder, why then, have they skyrocketed in popularity if most are soon forgotten about? Well, here's a surprising eye-opener: You see, the reason blogs are so powerful is that they are the ultimate tool to take advantage of search engines. They Allow You To Capture Huge Amounts Of Profitable Rankings And Attract Search Engine Spiders In Drones. This means any page linked to your blog can get into the search engines in as little as hours, usually in less than mere days - not the usual weeks or months it takes with new websites. And, as you may be aware, getting your pages into the search engines as quickly as possible is key to making your web sites profitable (as they can't make you money when they don't get any traffic).
