Camtasia Screencast Tutorials Are you ready to start making your own online videos? There are a lot of video creation tools on the market, but, TechSmith Camtasia v5 takes the cake! Today we are offering 4 professionally produced videos that take you thru the whole process of making a video with this software. These are excellent quality videos, not your cheep slide types, the voice is clear and the presenter knows his stuff! These videos, when purchased come with private label rights, meaning you may add your own name to them, change them and sell them freely. Your download will include the editable files as well as web ready files. You will also receive a copy of this sales page and other promotional material, including a give away page and download page.
