Just Plugin Their RSS Feeds For Automatic Money Websites. Get Your FREE Niche Keyword Targeted Content From Youtube, Google, Yahoo, Metacafe, Flickr, Amazon, Ebay, Clickbank and more... Dear Content Publisher, You need regular fresh content for our websites and blogs, right? Oh trust me, I know exactly what you mean. I personally have a number of websites and blogs that need regular new content and I know how frustrating and annoying it may become when you have update these websites manually. Getting articles and other new content written is may become very expensive, especially if you plan to update your websites on a regular basis. Its not like you really have a choice anyway because inorder to keep your website interesting and also to increase your traffic you have to keep your content fresh. You Know, Search Engines Love Fresh Content... With all this in mind, I went searching for a solution to help me save money on getting content written as well as time updating those websites. Thats when I ran into RSS feeds. Thank the Lord for RSS feeds, they are really a life saver. RSS feeds allow you to publish content written by other people on your website for free and never have to worry about updating your website because the owner of the feed will take care of that. Ofcourse, the content will have links back to their website, but I can deal with that. Now I can easily set up automatic updating blogs and websites in just a few minutes, and never have to worry about them again. But, heres the real kicker. I recently ran into RSS feeds that you can plugin your affiliate ID and you will get paid commission on all sales you make from each post you make on your blog. So now not only do you get fresh content but you can also get paid from publishing that fresh content on your website or blog. Lets not forget the old school method of making money from publisher networks such as Yahoo, Google Adsense, Bidvertiser etc. You know the now infamous pay per click method, that has made a lot of people rich and a lot more really frustrated.
