The wedding is probably the most important occasion to the couple who are deeply in love with each other. Unfortunately, because of the hustles and bustles involved with the preparations, you might lose track of whats really important in a wedding the union of souls between 2 people. To make the wedding memorable, the attire, cake, reception, flowers, church and all other important details of a wedding ceremony should all be prepared in a very systematic manner. Being Disorganized Could Lead to a Wedding Disaster! When choosing the motif, colors, and ambiance of the wedding ceremony, its important to consider the preferences and the personality of both the bride and the groom. Neither of them cant plan the wedding by himself/herself. Therefore, a one-sided wedding (which means it doesn't have the approval of both the bride or groom) will not likely be a memorable one. The wedding should be a reflection of the couple's traits, attitudes, and lifestyle. If any of the couple is dissatisfied, it will ruin the mood of the wedding. The Wedding Planning Process To make your wedding truly memorable, you have to list everything that needs to be prepared. Your checklist will go through several updates. Its important that you check, double check, and even triple check everything to get things right. On the wedding day, you cant afford any mishaps. The most important elements of a wedding are these: the church, the reception, the florist, the videos and photography. Each of these major concerns is composed of several tiny details you have to take care of. When planning the wedding inside a church, for example, you have to talk to the pastor and schedule the ceremony. Some churches require marriage counseling before getting married so you have to add that to your schedule too. You also have to decorate the church according to your wedding motif. You need to choose the persons who are going to participate in the wedding entourage. Then you have to invite guests that would fill up the area. Of course, you should remember the rings, flowers, music, attire, transportation and wedding vows as well. The church is just the first thing you have to deal with. There are many other things to be concerned about. You need to prepare the wedding reception. And that includes hiring musicians to play songs, the program to follow, special thoughts and addresses from family and friends, seating preparation, decorations, and of course, the food and wine.
