The warmth and feel of your web site its ambience is a fundamental factor that captures on-line visitors to your e-commerce portal. It either invites or dissuades their attention. Pixels, backgrounds and foregrounds, use of geometric figures, and in terms of shape, size, color, contrast and appeal characterize a web pages texture. Photographs and halftones provide your web pages with a cheerful dimension. All these have to work in perfect harmony to create a captivating and engaging visual delight. Color and texture has a tremendous impact on users emotionally because the best texture and color combination is not only seen, but felt as well. This is why users unconsciously develop an unexplained attraction to a web site, and choose to lengthen their stay. Although there is no single bullet formula to guarantee that everybody will feel the same towards a particular web site with a particular color scheme, there are color guidelines and techniques that have a favorable influence in a web sites overall appeal to users, which you can use to your advantage.
