A Script to Produce Customizable Slide-Up Ads What I created was a script that creates customizable slide-up ads. When I checked online to see if my invention was already done, I noticed someone else had created one like it, but theirs was way too slow and not really customizable. I created one that was blazingly fast. In fact, here are the attributes of what my script can do: The script is lightning fast, competitor scripts are very slow The contents of the slide up ad can be completely customized You can easily create your own unique templates No database is needed The slide ups are unobtrusive ads at the bottom of the browser The ads will not be blocked by popup blockers Can be used for any type of website, wordpress blog, joomla portals etc. Tags: im, plr
