Paid Advertising, The Commercial State Of The Internet And e-Commerce As We Know It Right Now, Are Dramatically & Rapidly Changing Unless you're brand-new to selling on the net, you have seen many changes in how people are doing business online compared to successful methods used just a few years ago. The search engines have gone to the pay per click model and most ways of getting traffic for free are either gone or have become extremely difficult to conquer. On the flip side, if you have done any shopping online you may have seen things changing in your shopping experience as well. Maybe you've seen less choices for a product than you used to see, for one thing. You will learn how to harness the power of these changing times & gain the knowledge to help you profit! You see, there have been tens of thousands of successful web businesses emerging annually for years but now that most of the world is connected, the ability for loads of new people to come online and actually compete is becoming more and more difficult. The businesses coming online these days that ARE wildly succeeding almost always have a huge advertising budget right out of the gate and this is what it takes to succeed in many situations. It seems like the "little guy" doesn't have a chance if his budget is small starting out. That is unless you 'work smarter' and... Utilize The Power Of Your Own Huge Network Of Affiliates Bringing In Profits 24/7! If you're new to online marketing, you might be wondering what a network of affiliates is... Let me tell you by explaining how you may have actually participated in one without even knowing what it was called. Many companies allow people to promote their products and if they make a sale, they give them a portion or percentage of the profits. This is what's called an "Affiliate (or Reseller) Program". The people who do the promoting do so without being paid UNTIL they actually generate a sale. After the merchant has been paid, they receive a check, a direct deposit, or a PayPal payment for their portion of the sale. Merchants are happy to do this because they don't have any advertising cost and they get traffic to their site. When a sale is generated, and only when a sale is generated, do they ever pay anything to the affiliate. And believe it or not, some merchants have over 100,000 affiliates or more that actively promote their product and services for a portion of the profits. Can you imagine having thousands of salespeople promoting your product without having to pay them a cent until they make you money?
