"The Guru Granny" Guru Granny & Associates guru-granny.com/idevaffiliate From: Ray Man of JV -Marketers.com Date: September 2010 Hello fellow marketer, Do you have the same problem as me? That same irritating issue every time and even every day to get traffic going to your site(s)? All those countless hours looking & research for new ways to get new tools, new methods, new techniques and tactics to drive traffic to your site? Traffic exchanges, FFA pages, safelists, classifieds ads, submitting to search engines & directories, free advertising services, heck, even paid services! However, they all provide you with a small traffic flow and generate only traffic of poor quality. It only gets me frustrated again and again, drives me to do new research, buy new info products and new tools only to get more disappointed again. It even gets me more frustrated when I read the sales pages of all those big wealthy marketers, that seem to get all the traffic in the world that have sales conversions of 40 and up and make zillions of dollars through that. Then I exploded....sick of it all i took a rest and started to think. Testimonial - Hear what customers say Again We are Amazed What You developed and for Such A Low Price. You're Always working with the Marketeer desires in MIND. Thanks for this wonderful Product, the PR BackLinks Generator - A Trully Great Job Ton Boerkamp Netherlands

SynergyWorldwide synergyfitness.eu And then it came to me, like lightening! Listen carefully; what I am going to share with you right here right now, will clear up your business sky and let the sun shine each and every day and warm you up with a fuzzy feeling when you check your stats. it is not a total solution, that does not exist, but it is one of the most effective and efficient ways to get the perfect flow of laser targeted traffic, and best, all for free! Let me ask you a question? What is the worlds best kind of traffic? Traffic that you try to pull or traffic that is searching for your products? Right, people that look & are searching for your products ofcourse :) And where does their search for your product start? Right again :) Search engines! And I am not talking PPC here...no way...tests have shown that PPC is not the best way to get traffic; search engine traffic first looks at the free results and then it will look over the paid results which is most times clicked by teenagers. Free search engine traffic, targeted and hungry to buy your solution! That is what we want, nothing to invest, nothing to buy, it just pours in redirected by the search engines. "But, eh Ray.....do you know how hard it is to get good search engine positions?" I hear you think.... Oh yeah, believe me, I do....as mentioned I have tried it all. Yes, a condition is that your site has to rank high in the search engines. So how do search engines determine your position of your site in their results, should actually be your question.... Lets simplify for a moment - let us just take google because it is the most used and known search engine on this planet right now. Having a good position there will give you the most wanted traffic ever, do you agree? The number 1 factor, that google uses to position your site is PR - Page Rank! Probably most of you know what Page Rank is and how important this is, but for people that do not know this, let me explain a bit. Page rank is an indicator of how many back links a site has and of which quality those back links are. It is like link popularity but a bit extended. Google uses complex formulas to calculate page ranks of sites. however how they calculate this is not important right now. What is important to know are the following points: You can have the best keyword targeted web site, totally optimized, but if you have a PR0 then a web site with PR1 or PR2 will be positioned higher then yours, even if their web site is not optimized for that particular keyword. You need back links to increase your page rank; the more sites link to yours, the more your page rank will increase. Sites with higher page ranks will add more page rank to your page rank then sites with a lower page rank; so you better have 3 sites link to you with PR7 then 25 with PR0 It is better to have one way links, web sites link to you and you do NOT link to them, then two or three way link exchanges (you link to a site and they link back). Because when you link to another site, you give a bit away of your page rank (it is like pouring in each other's cup some PR). One way links really boost up your Page Rank! The more related your web site is with the site that links to you the more Page Rank you get. The higher your page rank the higher you will be positioned in Google. That is in short how page rank works and not only Google uses it, most well known search engines use this kind of rating. Page Rank; how popular is your web site by other web sites (link to you) and how popular are those web sites. So if you target a given keyword or string (2 or more keywords) and you get a Page rank of let's say PR6, you probably end up on page 1 for Google search results if not even the number 1 position (of course the more competition for a keyword the harder it will be to get number 1). THAT IMPORTANT IS PAGE RANK FOR SEARCH ENGINE POSITION ! So, now page rank is explained and the importance is shown... How can you get one-way back links, from other sites with the highest possible Page Rank and a related theme to your keywords, to your site? And what would really give you the edge? Like tens and even hundreds of one-way back links of PR4 and up so you can even compete in a saturated and highly competitive market? Is there anything that can accomplish that goal nowadays? The answer is YES! The just released PR Back Link Generator software is ready to do all that for you, in just a few easy steps!
