New!* Rss Traffic Detonator With Mrr*

Would The Thought Of Thousands Of Other Web Site's All Displaying Your Content, And A Link Back To Your Web Site Excite You? RSS Traffic Detonator is so easy to use, that even a child could figure it out. When we were having the software developed my nine-year-old son did most of the testing. He had a ball watching all the content we created showing up immediately in the major RSS directories and knowing that he and put it there all on his own what this simple to use the software. If only he knew the value these RSS feeds can bring, we would probably have never been able to get him away from the computer It's Fast- I used to spend hours manually sending me my feeds to all of the major directories. RSS Traffic Detonator submits all of my feeds to the major feed directories automatically with the push of a button and completes all the submissions in minutes rather than hours! It's all been automated for you- When you open the RSS Traffic Detonator interface you will be prompted to enter in some basic information such as the title and description of your web site, plus the actual link to your RSS feed, the category of which your RSS feed falls under, and a few other small things. It will then save this information for future use so as you build more and more RSS feeds up, RSS Traffic Detonator will remember them for the next time you use the software. I absolutely guarantee you will be amazed when you see the amount of time that you can save, the amount of content, you can spread all over the Internet, and the amount of extra money that content can be bringing in immediately. Don't you owe it to yourself to try RSS Traffic Detonator today? Right about now is usually where most slick talking Internet marketing salesman would go into how many months it took them to create RSS Traffic Detonator and how much money they spent creating it, and ask you how much you think you should pay for such an incredible piece of software. They would ask something like is $2000 to much for peace of software that will do all this, how about $1500, would you pay $1500 to stop having to do this so you have more time to do that? You know the pitch - you have seen it a thousand times if you've been on the Internet very long. But I will be perfectly honest. I don't like those kind of sales tactics, anymore than you probably do so I'm not going to beat around the bush. The cost for RSS Traffic Detonator is a mere $47.00- When you consider the amount of time that you can spend manually submitting your RSS feeds to these directories. I'm sure you will agree that that is a very small sum for me to ask.. So you have ask yourself how much is your time worth? If you are used to used to making small sums of money every month, then possibly it is worth your time to sit in submit your RSS feeds manually. Only you know what your time is worth..... However if you have figured out that there is a lot of money to be made on this thing called the Internet then I'm sure you understand what your time is really worth, and if that's the case, you would absolutely without question know that a tool that will save you as much time as RSS Traffic Detonator can, is easily worth four times what I'm asking for it. So all I can do is tell you, stop banging your head against your computer monitor like I used to do and get your copy of RSS Traffic Detonator today, before I come to my senses and raise the price.
