Search Engine Optimization Junkies, Internet Entrepreneurs and Webmasters with the inside scoop have been Buzzing for months about a super fast method of getting your entire site pages crawled within a week, and even in some cases within a Matter of Days. But Blogging and Pinging Every Page is the Hard Part... You see the ever since the release of the famous Blog and Ping Tutorials months ago, the process taught people manually how to -- 1. Create a Blogger account at Bloggerand setup the settings (shown in software guide) 2. Create a my.yahoo account and take the RSS URL found in Bloggerand place it your MYYAHOO account 3. Go back to your Blog and Post pages from the site you want crawled and indexed to the blog 4. Ping the Blog Aggregator like Yahoo and place like Pingomatic and wala! Whilst this sounds simple enough ...and well ...it is if you have only 7 pages on your website and 1 website, but many people doing business online have lots of site and lots of pages, and not a huge whack of time to spend posting pages to their blog in set intervals. So people have been faced with 3 options * Post every Page from your Site to a Bloggeraccount Manually * Post every Page from your Site to a Bloggeraccount Using a Paid Service * Post every Page from your Site to a Bloggeraccount Using Expensive Software Now, It could take you
