Essentially, a membership site is when anyone pays to access information you publish in a password protected area on your site. You can offer exclusive articles, information, or even a service (like software, games, eBooks, or music). This site teaches you how to start and market your own membership web site. People are willing to pay for online content. In fact, the Online Publishers Association revealed that pay-for content is emerging as a hot revenue model. Get paid to turn your hobby, specialized knowledge, or profession into a membership web site.
