HomeDisk Labels, one of the most popular mac product for the CD/DVD Label design software for MacOS X. The HomeDisk Labels is a simple and intuitive mac software for creating CD/DVD labels, disk covers, tray inserts, mini disks, etc., with numerous professionally designed templates, large collection of clipart and backgrounds. Modify image objects by applying image masks and Core Image filters, add Power text and circle text text blocks, add your own pictures in various supported formats. Import text and images directly into your label design, and save it as your own design templates. Use the iTunes integration to import the album data. Numerous predefined label formats from Avery, SureThing, Memorex, Fellowes, and custom ones, are at service. Print your labels to disks with Epson direct-to-disk printing technology. The Cristallight HomeDisk Labels 1.8.2 requires Mac OS X 10.4 (Tiger) or later, runs on both PPC Mac and Intel Mac, which includes the lifetime license with free upgrades, and free tech support.
