Refer Bomb Script ReferBomb allows you to improve your site's search engine rating by taking advantage of other folks' public web stats and referer lists. This script will get up to 1000 Google search results for the term or phrase you specify, then access each of the results forging your own URL as the HTTP referer. This gets you listed (and linked to) in other sites' web stats, blog referer lists, etc. which then improves your search engine rating by increasing the number of sites which link to you. FEATURES * Increase your site's visibility and traffic * Uses a proxy to mask the origin of the "referral bomb" * Now supports multiple sites and search terms in each run * Outputs results using an easy to understand key [Overview] ReferBomb allows you to improve your site's search engine rating by taking advantage of other folks' public web stats and referer lists. Installation instructions for Refer Bomb Inside the zip you should find the following files :

INSTALL.txt - Installation instructions referbomb.php - The main PHP script Unzip the file and set the configuration variables as indicated in referbomb.php. Upload referbomb.php to your server. [Usage] NOTE: referbomb.php is meant to run from the command line using the PHP binary. It may or may not run via the web on your server, and output is not formatted for the web. To use referbomb.php, open the script and edit the search terms, proxy host/port, and your desired referer URLs. Then save the script and run it from the command line like so: php -q referbomb.php It will take several minutes to gather the list of Google search results for the term you specified. Once this is done, the number of results fetched will be displayed, and referral bombing will commence. The script will show a key to its output codes, and then begin displaying a one-character code (+, -, , or @) for each URL it attempts to fetch. It is normal to see a lot of @ signs. If you see a lot of - signs, you should probably change the proxy host and port in the configuration. See openproxies for a list of proxies and corresponding ports that you can use. Tags: mrr, web,
