Page ===== An FTP client that is used for uploading large amounts of files to your website without getting disconnected. If youre uploading a directory that has subfolders, the program will create the folders on your server and upload them accordingly. The count feature lets you know the number of files as well as the common size of files. * Saves a tremendous amount of time when uploading hundreds or even thousands of program generated pages. * Allows you the option of specifying the number of attempts so that any failed transfers will automatically be repeated.
