"Tired Of Beating Your Head Against The Wall Trying To Figure Out How To Deal With Your Loved One Having ADHD" Don't Waste Any More Time And Money On Other Products Or Instructions That Have No Clue When Talking About ADHD. Dear Parent: Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder is becoming one of the most diagnosed disorders among children and even adults these days. Many years ago, the acronym ADHD was virtually unheard of. When you get the word that you or your child has ADHD, you might feel overwhelmed wondering where you can turn for information on how to deal with this new thing in your life. We can understand! That's exactly why this might be the MOST IMPORTANT letter you've ever read. There have been as many as 750,000 children in America diagnosed with ADHD. Some say the actual number is much, much higher. Adults who are being diagnosed have probably been suffering with the disorder for years without being able to put a finger on what exactly has made them act the way they do. With an ADHD child or adult, the first thing to do is to gather as much information as you possibly can. It's imperative that you understand what ADHD is, what the symptoms are, and how to deal with those symptoms. We Have That Information You Are Looking For! ADHD is NOT a disease. It is not an incurable illness. ADHD is a disorder that can be controlled and dealt with in positive, healthy ways. But in order to effectively control the behaviors that accompany ADHD, you need to know what exactly you are dealing with. Our new e-book, Coping With ADHD, is the answer to your prayers! There is a lot of information out there that can help you, but if you have an ADHD person in your life, chances are pretty good that you don't have time to go looking for what you need. Now You Don't Have To! The truth is that you want the very best for your child. But you worry about him or her because they don't glide through school effortlessly and they have tough times with things like following directions and sitting still. The adult with ADHD has problems finishing projects and paying attention when they should be. I've loved Lucas from the day he was born. Everything seemed fine until he went to school. That's when all the troubles started. No one could tell me why he was doing so poorly. I got tired of getting the phone calls from his teacher. Lucas kept telling me he was doing the best he could. I didn't know where to turn or even whether to believe him. Alicia from Missouri Both children and adults with ADHD can thrive when you have techniques and tips that can help you conquer the symptoms and overcome! Whats The Secret? It starts with one universal thought that is an incredible truth hear it and believe it! Every single person with ADHD has hidden talents and skills that he or she isnt using nearly as powerfully as they can. So why is it so difficult to find those talents? So very often, success goes hand and hand with education. But general education teachers are pretty well trained to deliver information to students who will sit still and listen. Kids with ADHD simply cannot do this, so they miss out on what their peers are receiving simply because they dont have ADHD. But There Is Help! Do any of the following statements apply to your child? Their room is a hopeless mess with papers, toys, and clothing everywhere? This is normal for a teenager, but not so normal with an 8-year old! They cant concentrate even while playing? They make careless mistakes while doing homework even when he knows the material? Teachers are always contacting you about your child to report bad behavior. Your child often loses items that she needs like school supplies. Does he always have to be standing up even when he should be sitting down? Your kid speaks quickly with little to no thought about what is being said. They butt in during conversations with topics that are completely off the topic being discussed. These are all classic symptoms of ADHD. What about adult ADHD? What are the symptoms of that? Unfinished tasks Broken promises Moving from job to job, often quickly A tendency toward alcohol and/or drug abuse Entering into and leaving many different relationships Procrastination Disorganization A perceived sense of irresponsibility When you become familiar with what ADHD is and how it presents itself, it is often easier to identify those who have the disorder. So many people have misconceptions about ADHD, and its time to put those misconceptions in the vault and lock them away forever! ADHD Can Be Dealt With Easily And Effectively - If You Know What To Do! This valuable e-book can show you all sorts of amazing techniques when dealing with ADHD. If youre a parent of an ADHD child, you might initially feel like a failure as a parent. Listen to what one woman had to say about this product: I felt like I gave it to her. Her pediatrician diagnosed Shania when she was quite young 5 years old. She was getting ready to enter pre-school, but the testing process was awful. She couldnt concentrate. They suggested we visit our family doctor and when he told me she had ADHD, I wondered what I could have done differently. It was entirely my fault. I was a horrible parent at least thats how I felt. Monica from Washington Nothing Could Be Further From The Truth! While many studies indicate the ADHD is genetically inherited, that has nothing to do with why your child has this disorder. Actually, once a diagnosis is made, most parents feel a sense of relief that they finally know whats wrong with their child. Once you know what youre dealing with, you can start arming yourself with coping techniques. So what will you learn in this book? Heres a little sneak peek: The advantages and disadvantages of medication What behaviour changes need to be made How families can cope with an ADHD person How to parent an ADHD child Building your ADHD childs self-esteem Why your child is so angry and how to defuse that anger And MUCH MORE! We offer over 22 tips on how to address this disorder and overcome the symptoms that are holding you or your child back from realizing full potential. Support is out there. This Book Is A Great Place To Start! You need to realize that most people who have this disorder truly want to behave differently. They might not act like it, but they do. They simply dont know how. Its time for you to take action now! With our book, Coping With ADHD, you will learn how to teach your child to better understand the diagnosis of ADHD and why they are acting the way they are. You will learn how you, as a parent, can encourage different behaviour that will not only help your child cope, but change too. Whats the greatest advantage of all? Your home will operate more smoothly, your family will feel more at peace, and your child will finally find his or her place in society. What can be more valuable than that? NOT MUCH! Thats exactly why you should order Coping With ADHD today. Once you do, youll be well on your way to learning more about this disorder and the most effective ways to combat it and overcome it! Weve put together this book using information from the experts on ADHD doctors, counselors, teachers, and parents. Theres even a section on how to educate your childs teacher about your childs problem. Its almost impossible to put a price on this type of book especially considering the wealth of information thats included in the pages. Thats why weve priced Coping With ADHD at the low price of just $5.00. We think its a bargain, and were sure you will too, once you read it. Here is some more feedback from our customers: Now that I know why Shania has been acting this way, I felt I owed it to her to learn as much as I could to help her deal with her behaviour. After reading this book, I put some of the practices into play and saw nearly immediate results! I couldnt be happier! Robert from Maryland I realize that there are ways for me to help Lucas. I dont have to worry about giving my child the best I have anymore. I now possess tools to help him along the way. That makes me feel comforted and hopeful! Clarissa From Oklahoma What Are You Waiting For? Your child, you, someone you love anyone who has ADHD deserves to be everything they can be. When you start with this book, youll be well armed and fully prepared. Order Coping With ADHD today for the low price of $5.00, and be well on your way to a healthier child and a healthier life! Warmest Regards Tracy Yates
