Dear Boxer Owner, If you want to have a happy, healthy and obedient boxer dog, then this might be the most important message you read today... Let me tell you why: There is more to having a pet boxer dog than you might have first thought. To be more precise, there's more to understanding and loving it than you would have ever even considered. You want to make sure you and your dog are both having a happy and an enjoyable time together - always. I think I should introduce myself, my name is AUTHORS NAME. I'm NOT a boxer dog trainer or anything fancy, but just an ordinary guy like you who simply love boxer dogs. Let me ask you something, are these 3 of the most important secrets you want to know about your boxer dog? How to make your boxer dog happy and loving? How to understand what your boxer dog wants or likes so that you can take care of it to make sure it's always healthy? What are the secrets to train your boxer dog to follow your instructions and listen to you obediently every time? Those were the 3 main burning questions I had when I first had Jim (that's my boxer dog's name) around. But I was frustrated because I couldn't find this information anywhere! Especially on getting the love, attention and obedience training parts right. In fact, I've searched in almost all the corner bookstores around. Yeah, sure I found a few dog books authored by the so-called 'dog experts'. I bought them happily and started reading but when I applied the tips given, they just didn't work! I realized why most of the books I read don't work. First, they are dog books, not BOXER DOG books! For a start, did you know that boxer dog is a highly intelligent breed? You see, boxer dogs are a wonderful breed that seems to have their own ways and mind. Secondly, the so-called 'dog expert' writers probably never owned a boxer dog before. They might owned dogs, but I'm not sure it's a boxer dog or not. Lastly, the writing is based on THEIR opinions of what's right and wrong. Heck, how sure are they that what they teach is right? After a hard consideration, I set out to find these secrets myself. It was not easy at first, but I pursued and persevered. I ended up doing my own research to find out the truth about these secrets so that I can take good care of my own dog. (And of course, I wanted to find a way to stop him from chewing on my slippers!) Then, I wanted him to get along with the children. I spent over 2 months just communicating with 93 boxer dog lovers around the world (some are owners) to get their input and learn from their experiences. Then, I surfed the internet, burning the midnight oil to read articles and forum posts to find out more. And, of course, I did not forget about the tips I've gathered from books I've bought from the local bookstores. Phew! It was a lot of work. But if you were to ask me whether it was worth the effort, I'll say YES because I finally got my answers. It's no longer a secret to me how to make a boxer dog happy, healthy and obedient the way you want it.
