This is Stand up Comedy. The really good kind. This guy has been on David Letterman's show 32 times and has 2 HBO specials, a Comedy Central Special and many other credits. Buy this CD and go see him live. I am not lying. Do it. 26 MP3 Songs SPOKEN WORD: Comedy, ROCK: Classic Rock Details: When does a comedians credit become a helluva lot more than just a credit? Well, one answer to this weird little riddle is when its Jake Johannsens Letterman credit: Hes appeared on the show more than any other younger comic (heck, maybe more than any comic), so many, in fact, that a precise count might be nigh impossible, but certainly upwards of 30 times. There are truly great comedians whove been on Letterman fewer than five times--and some whove never been booked on the show--so this is just one measure of what an immensely accomplished, creative, prolific and funny comic Jake is. You want another? Remember when TV Guide published its list of The 50 Funniest TV Moments Of All Time? Number 36 was Jakes 1992 hourlong HBO special, Thisll Take About An Hour. Again, this wasnt recognizing the funniest moments of, say, 1992--but of all time. To put this further in context, Numb
