ANTI-CANCER FEEL This frequency MAY be reported by some users to help induce how one FEELS when cancer is being beaten, no claims of any kind are made to treat or diagnose cancer, this should NOT be construed as a form of medical treatment of ANY kind, those buying this frequency understand in advance that NO actual remission of cancer may be experienced in any way. It is entirely experimental speculation that this sound frequency MAY cause some degree of abatement of some types of cancer to be reported by some users. Use of this frequency should not be used by the user as a false hope for cancer recovery. It is speculated that IF an emotional, mental state and FEELING in the body of what it MAY be like to experience cancer being beaten, could be produced and if it COULD be translated into sound frequencies, then it MAY be that some users of this sound frequency MAY report that these frequencies appear to induce these states to some degree. It is not proposed that this frequency is meant in any way to be a cure for any physical form of cancer. It is not recommended that this sound frequency be used as a treatment for cancer in anyway, directly. It is not to be considered by the purchaser and or user that this sound frequency is IMPLIED directly or indirectly as any form of medical treatment of any kind for cancer or any other form of disease. If you have cancer, seek professional treatment from your recognized official, state controlled and regulated medical 'doctors'.
