Details: Tres Leches creates world-infused folk music with exquisite harmonies and accompaniment. This Brooklyn-based trio was formed in the Spring of 2007 with songs that organically emerged from the musical merry-making of three mamas and their babies! Havalah Collins, Rene Skuba, and Jessie White were already professional singers and so, as new mothers, it was only natural for them to begin creating music for children. It was soon discovered that their songs were compelling not only to young ones, but to people of all ages! The trios soothing and sublime voices combine beautifully to create an harmonic synergy that draws in any listener. Tres Leches is excited to be part of the new movement of artists who are creating dynamic collections of work that appeal to a wide variety of audiences. Their first upcoming album titled Tres Leches: Songs, Chants Lullabies for All Our Relations consists of originals, re-envisioned traditional songs, and sacred chants that span the globe. What people are saying about Tres Leches: With their sweet harmonies and their gentle songs, Tres Leches is a sonic substitute for a warm glass of milk. Listen and relax. Tres Leches makes my heart sing. I am transported and lulled into a sweet state of grace by their harmonies and divine presence. Their songs appeal to the innocent and pure child within us all. Tres Leches treated families to an infectious journey of toe-tapping and finger-snapping tunes laced with their signature dreamy harmonies. A lovely performance! All songs arranged by Tres Leches (Havalah Collins, Rene Skuba and Jessie White) except for All Through the Night, arranged by Michael White for Tres Leches.
