Very melodic art- or progressive rock with the elements of classical music. Do you still remember the golden years of prog rock?? With this recording, Andrew Roussak won the German Pop Rock Award 2006 as the best keyboard-player. 10 MP3 Songs ROCK: Progressive Rock, NEW AGE: Neo-Classical

Details: No Trespassing is the debut solo album of Andrew Roussak. The recordings for it (featuring guest musicians) were taken during 2006 at the various studios in Germany, France and Russia. The tracks were mixed at the home studio of Andrew in Karlsruhe and , in March 2007, the CD was mastered at the Mastermix Studio, Munich, Germany. All compositions written by Andrew Roussak except for two : Prelude (Praeludium # 2 C-moll from WTC Vol. 1 J.S. Bach) and Jesu, Joy Of Man ' s Desiring (chorale from Cantata No. 147 " Herz und Mund und Tat und Leben " - J.S.Bach). Born in Russia in the industrial city of Ufa, Andrew began to learn to play piano at the age of 7. After having graduated from the Ufa State College of Arts as a pianist, Andrew was employed as a studio musician and as a chief musical editor at the local broadcast station. Side by side with the classical music , his major influences of that period were the recordings of Keith Emerson and Rick Wakeman. Since that time till today, the massive keyboard sound together with the virtuoso keyboard and piano solos feature his recordings made for the various bands and projects. Since 2001, Andrew Roussak lives in Germany as a freelance artist, playing live gigs with the bands and solo concerts, writing orchestra scores, doing studio jobs and giving the piano and keyboard lessons. In 2006, Andrew won the German Pop Rock Award as the best keyboard player and the best instrumental soloist . Reviews: Great musicianship from Andrew Roussak himself on keyboards and piano, with adequate to good contribution from the supporting musicians. The album grows on you with repeated listening, like most good albums. The sound (as far as I could judge by playing on my PC) is good. The highly melodic songs are good, sometimes even great ... an excellent debut with great promise for things to come. Magle International Music Forum, Denmark Art For Art's Sake - Blog focused on music and visual arts, Holland In German: Mit "No Trespassing" prsentiert Andrew Roussak eine orchestral-getrnkte CD,die in ihrem Facetten-Reichtum mit dem 60er und 70er Classic-Rock kokettiert, pltzlich sich aber wieder jazzig-bluesig gibt...Seine Preise sind redlich verdient.Hchste Anerkennung!!
