Reports in the newsgroup indicate up to 70 reduction of plaque, morning breath as well as stimulation of clearing of mouth, tooth infections. May be helpful in reducing spread of dental related disease, molds, fungus, bacteria, etc. Especially if used during sleep with the Silent Listening Broadcast Antenna.

Caution, may trigger fast dramatic emergence, release of long standing toxic infections? If you swell up or start experiencing severe tooth ache, get to the dentist immediately, the long festering hidden tooth infection you may have had and didnt know about may emerge, which is good from the perspective of at least being able to know about it and do something about it. Smokers, let us know if you experience reduction in bad morning breath when you wake up after using this one. For more info on users who have tried this one in the past see the early posts in the newsgroup archives
