Musicals/Broadway People who are interested in Richard Rodgers Oscar Hammerstein II should consider this download. Details: Seasoned music industry professional, Jay Richards, is in demand as a composer, arranger, performer, and producer. In addition to his work in film, musical theatre, radio, and the studio, he produces other talented artists coast to coast. His orchestral works have been performed worldwide. He owns Tanglewood Records, Inc. - a small record label - as well as Tanglewood Studio.

Music in schools and arts in the non-profit sector also benefit from Jay's drive and enthusiasm. In addition to grants and support for school music programs locally, he is the founder and executive director of Music Theatre West, a non-profit production company in Northern Utah. Musical theatre has long been a passion for Jay (a triple threat in younger days) who spent many years on the stage in summer stock, community and semi-professional theatre, oratorio, choral, big band, a cappella, symphony, and even ballet (sorry, no photos available). Occasionally still in a leading role, Jay prefers conducting the pit and putting all the magic together behind the scenes. Jay is currently working on a musical adaptation of the Jane Austen classic Pride Prejudice.
