A 2005 Parents' Choice Recommended Award Winner. Teacher and the Rockbots are the cartoon band with the smartest fans. Learn the multiplication facts from 0-12 with the coolest math songs in the galaxy. 13 MP3 Songs KIDS/FAMILY: General Children's Music, KIDS/FAMILY: Kid Friendly Details: Teacher and the Rockbots apply an ancient, secret learning formula (fun + energy + a little more fun + good sense) that produces kids with enormous brains... definitely way too big for a hat. It's really fun and amazingly simple. Playing the CD in your car will transform it into a rock and rolling classroom. Plug one in at home and fill your kid's brains with good, solid math skills. Plug it in wherever you can...it will make you smile. On practically every song, we let the robots sing with us if they feel like it and they make the songs easy to listen to over and over (who doesn't love to hear a robot sing?). That's important since repetition is the key to learning mathematics for most people. (Robots usually pick it up a little quicker). P.S. The last four songs are really cool too, but you'll have to get your own copy of the CD to check them out. It's something nice to look forward to. ----- FREE Smart-Kid Worksheets are available at teacherandtherockbots.com so that parents can see how much their kids are learning from these songs. -----
