Wendy James is the lead singer and songwriter for Wendy the James Gang. She received her calling into music ministry at age 17. Born and raised near Saginaw, Michigan, she graduated from Huntington College (Huntington, IN) with a BA in Vocal Performance and her music teaching certification. After teaching elementary music for 2 years, she decided to devote her time to her family, music ministry and songwriting. In 1989, she recorded Proclaim His Power, which contained five songs she wrote or co-wrote. In 1996, she released Wendy James, a project of all original, adult-oriented, contemporary Christian songs, which features "The Lord Reigns", Jonah, God is Faithful, You Are the Heart, and For God So Loved the World. Blessed with a 4-octave range, she started performing concerts in churches for Youth For Christ while in high school. After college and marriage, she continued in part-time adult concert ministry. Her husband David joined her by running sound and in singing the occasional duet, while continuing his career as a CPA. During this time, they had two children, Zac Ben, who as they grew, also became part of the concerts. Inspired by feedback from Jonah and her work on a childrens television show, Wendy felt the Lord directing her to write a collection of songs for kids. In early 2000, she completed the project, titled Wendy the James Gang KIDS I - God Loves You , which features 11 exciting pop/rock/swing songs written to appeal not only to kids 2-12, but also their parents and grandparents, including fan favorite "Run devil Run". The music is the soundtrack for "Secret Agent Man". During this time, the family felt God calling them to full-time ministry, but it wasn't until Dave went through two corporate restructurings in two years that he really got the hint. The family became Wendy the

James Gang, focused on full-time evangelism to kids and families. In order to present the songs in an outreach/concert format, Wendy Dave created an exciting, fast-paced live production involving the whole family. This original production, called "God Loves You" was designed to be an outreach event for kids and a means to bring the gospel message to entire families. Since March of 2000, they have toured coast to coast, and in 2002 they completed a 6 week, 41 show missions tour in South Africa. This show was retired in 2004. In 2003, she completed and released Kids II Song of the King, which is the soundtrack for the show of the same name. The photo above is her character "Serena" from the show. She also plays "Agent Samantha (Sam) Book" in "Secret Agent Man". They have been off the road since 2007, but are still involved in full-time ministry. Wendys background as a recording artist, performer, songwriter and composer includes piano and guitar, numerous radio television appearances and jingles. She was the featured singer at an event honoring a former U.S. Vice-President. She also has experience as an actress, and was a songwriter and performer for a childrens television show. In addition to all this, Wendy has continued writing, speaking, and performing at adult contemporary concerts and other special events, including leading worship at Women's retreats. Dave James (aka Mr. Wendy) is the husband and dad. He grew up near Fort Wayne, Indiana, and graduated from Huntington University with a BS in Business and Accounting. His career as a CPA included seven years with Coopers Lybrand (now PriceWaterhouseCoopers) and positions as the Corporate Controller or Chief Financial Officer (CFO) for various companies, after which he formed his own consulting practice of providing CFO services to entrepreneurial companies. During this time, he assisted Wendy with her part-time ministry as manager and sound technician. In 1999, God led Dave out of the corporate world to join his family in full-time ministry as Wendy the James Gang he founded Living Rock Family Outreach. He handles the business stuff and learned to drive a 39' RV while pulling a 25' trailer by driving to Traverse City, Mi (450 miles) the first day. Zac is an accomplished musician and songwriter, and plays acoustic, electric and bass guitar, drums and piano. He loves playing and singing on the Worship Team at church, computers, reading, video game playing and design, sports (especially golf and sandlot football) and friends. He has been homeschooled since after the 4th grade and loves it.
