OUT AT THE DEVIL is booty-shaking tarted-up 80s-style hair metal that's gayer than Christmas at Halford's house. THRILL to rock-hard anthems like "Frodonator," and "We Fight For Cock," and a special power-ballad cover of "Johnny, Are You Queer?" 12 MP3 Songs METAL: 80's Metal, SPOKEN WORD: Comedy Details: "Hanson Jobb and Udo Von DuYu are two of the city's funniest fellas devoted to 'fighting with metal and loving with wood.'" --Daphne Carr, VILLAGE VOICE BEST OF 2003 "Oh, yes."

--BLENDER Magazine PINK STL make heavy metal gay, and gay heavy metal funny as hell--blurring the lines between music, comedy, Motley Cre and Mary Poppins to create a fabulous, fist-pumping arena rock concert experience that will leave you singing tunes like "We Fight For Cock" "I'm Comin' Out (All Over You)" and "Sausage Party" for days--whether you want to or not. "Outlandish performance and inspired bitchiness." --TIME OUT NEW YORK "The gays from hell." --NEXT Magazine THE HISTORY: Born in Bremen, Germany, Hanson Jobb and Udo Von DY have made good on their sacred pledge to "conquer the world, one bath house at a time." But PINK STL's rightful place in the great book of Gay Heavy Metal has been 20 years in the making. "The two have made gay heavy metal history."

--INSTINCT Magazine The flashpoint of this journey was September 1983, when founding members Udo Von DY (guitar, vocals) and Hanson Jobb (vocals) encountered each other in a smoky Rotterdam bathhouse/nightclub. Hanson had just finished "chatting" in the back room with several Nigerian wrestlers. A forlorn Udo was smothering his sorrows at the bar after his lover had left him for a cantaloupe with a hole cut in it. The two natives of Bremen, Germany immediately recognized each other from high school swim team. And the rest--as documented in the power ballad "Two Men Enter, One Man Loves"--is Gay Heavy Metal history. PINK STL have spread the gospel of Gay Heavy Metal ever since, covering the eastern U.S., northern Europe, and parts of Estonia. With the seminal albums Mouth Full of Magic, Creaming for Vengeance, and the upcoming Out at the Devil, PINK STL have duly carved their names into men's room walls and into hard rock legend. PINK STL: Gay Heavy Metal at its Hardest! YET MORE PRAISE FOR THE PINK BLACK BAREBACK ATTACK: "Their hysterical and catchy songs meld Ozzy Ozbourne with Oscar Wilde. " --HX Magazine "German accents, feather boas and a lot of bitchy gay

banter." --INSTINCT Magazine "You guys rage like boners." --PLAYGIRL Magazine "The logical next step." --TIME OUT NEW YORK "Raucously Sexy." --Rachel Kramer Bussell, VILLAGE VOICE
