"Acoustic brilliance;" a bit like Nick Drake Damien Rice, James Taylor, Joni Mitchell. 11 MP3 Songs

FOLK: like Joni, FOLK: Jazzy folk Details: Short Bio - Fraser Anderson is one of Scotland's foremost breaking singer/songwriters, now based in the south of France. His performances have been capturing audiences all over Europe regularly making people cry., being described as "unplugged acoustic brilliance". Fraser's recordings have also been making their way onto the airwaves, most recently on Radio Scotland and WFUV in New York. Recently supporting Joan Armatrading, performing with world reknowned percussionist Trilok Gurtu, and singing and recording with Scotland's folk legend Dougie MacLean. Fraser released his debut album 'and the girl with the strawberry...' in 2004 and has just released his follow up album , ' Coming up for air '. Fraser Anderson, a singer-songwriter from Scotland who currently resides in France. I first discovered Fraser not on MySpace, but on NPR while I was driving around town one night. I came in on the middle of the segment, which featured Fraser doing some of his songs live in studio. I instantly became a fan, and as soon as I got home, I tried like crazy to find out about him on the Internet. Because of the spelling of his first name (thanks, Kelsey Grammer), I couldn't find him right away. After poking around for about four or five days, I was able to locate him via his band website. I looked him up on MySpace and started listening. The first song I heard was "Fairytale," a tender love song with guitar work that is fantastic, to say the least. Fraser's voice is honest and sincere, and when he says,"You'll always be my baby blue" (among other things) it speaks of devotion, companionship, and warmth. "Fairytale" became one of those songs that I listened to a hundred times in about three or four days. I played it for my kids and my youngest quickly corrected Fraser, telling me that she'll always be my baby brown (we're Mexican and she was four years old). I added Fraser as my very first MySpace friend (other than that dumbass Tom) and contacted him about where to get his album and whether or not he was touring the U.S. soon. He responded shortly and let me know that the album wasn't available in the U.S., but that I could get it at his site. He is working on coming to the U.S. We talked about Nick Drake and I introduced him to Iron and Wine, which he hadn't heard and liked immediately. I told told him the "baby brown" story and he quite rightly thought it was cute. So, he's a nice guy as well as a very talented musician. His songs can soothe you on a hectic day, or make a peaceful Saturday with your family better. Not enough people know about Fraser, but damn, they should. Turn your countenance toward him, fools. It'll be time well spent. ----- - 2007 - Recorded new album in Paris and released it with a launch concert in a stunning 11th century chapel near Carcassonne in the south of France. - 2006 - Frasers song, Just hanging on, is chosen for use on a radio documentary by Musistadl Productions for Swift Networks Ltd about Ellis island in 1920s New York. To whom it may concern, I was absolutely enthralled the other day when Fraser Anderson was on the program. The music was just incredible. I was wondering if its at all possible to get a recording of that show... I would be more than willing to pay for it. I intend to buy his cd but fell in love with the acoustic versions and was merely curious about the live material. If you could email me back it would be greatly appreciated. Sincerely, Kevin Magee -----

Hi I heard an amazing voice last night on your program. I dont know his name at all, but I just couldnt stop thinking about it. If you could tell me who that was I would be so excited. thanx, ryan -----

Hey, love the show. Is there any way to get recordings of the shows? Ive been a fan of Fraser Anderson for a little while now and fell in love with the live performances he gave on your show. Can I get those recordings, for any price? Thanks for your time, Tim, in Portland, Oregon -----

Dear Thistle folks: Please send me the information for the singer Frazier Anderson and his debut album, Girl with a Strawberry (I think that is the name). Thank you Clyde Shaw ----- Hello, What was the artists name with whom you interviewed and played his music on Saturday, August 26th? I think his last or first name was Fraser? I would like to listen to more of his music... thank you much, Jason:) -----

A couple of weeks ago I caught a re-run show with Frazer Anderson on it. I loved Frazer Anderson! Ive gone on-line looking for some info. on him but cant find anything. Can you help? Thanks! Candy Kilgore, Double Springs, Alabama -----

I recently purchased your cd. I think it's one of the most enjoyable group of songs I've ever heard. The lyrics are poetic. The guitar is soothing. I've let some friends hear it and they all loved it. The cd's are not in stores where I live so I told them to look at the website. I also appreciate the pictures on the website because I do photography and artwork as a side business. I also play acoustic guitar and I enjoy writing, as a hobby. Thanks for personalizing the cd. It has quickly become one of my favorite's. Thanks again. Mark T. Malak -----
