Details: Sound and music have the power to heal. It is no accident that the first medicine men used sounds and tones as effective healing tools. More effective, in fact, than modern science can explain. Here is a centuries-old technique to create ideal conditions for rejuvenation and self- healing. Experience this powerful medicine based on sacred traditions of the admired and respected monks of Tibet - a perfect compliment to any therapeutic treatment. Strike one key on a piano and all the strings vibrate. The singing crystal bowls have the same effect on our bodies. Any negative vibrations are disrupted as our bodies re-harmonize with the tones from the crystal bowls. The music acts as a soothing delivery system like adding a sweet taste to make medicine taste good.
