Instrumental old-time fiddle tunes from this internationally renowned band; fiddle, mandolin, banjo, bass and guitar. 11 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Bluegrass, FOLK: Traditional Folk Details: All these tunes are from the same recording sessions that went into Reap What, You Sow(?), our second release done in March, 2004. Imagine a sow that has a huge litter, uncontrollable, little blind mute piglets all over the floor. Each one is special, yes, but we just didn't have space for them all at the time, so we pickled a bunch and now we're cracking the jars open. I know food metaphors are cliche in old-time music, and so are pigs, but this recording is old-school that way. It's fiddle tunes done around one microphone in a homemade package a hand-drawn cover. It should be on a cassette.
