This album contains virtual electronic orchestras with lead instruments oboe, harp, piano and soothing phase guitar. 5 MP3 Songs NEW AGE: Ambient, ELECTRONIC: Virtual Orchestra Details: Ernie Nelson is a composer who writes in a variety of styles. For this album he has chosen the semi classical approach. The use of virtual electronic orchestra was inspired by the real classical orchestras of Europe and America, the music of India and the tribal music of various African nations. All of these are included in his songs. The gospel influence can be felt in the compositions on this cd. Those who like Charles Ives, Steve Halpern and Maurice Ravel will like this album because of the uplifting quality of each of the selections. Those who love gospel will find sanctuary in the music offered here. The only difference is that these pieces are instrumental. If one listens to the background orchestrations that support the Atlanta Mass Choir you would find the same type of rendition there. Ernie Nelson has thirty five years of service in the music industry. He lives at his studio in Montreal Quebec where also his music is developed. He works also with budding teenage vocalists as well as vocal jazz students at Concordia University. And last but not least, his music and singing is known all over the world through his association with Canadian jazz Guitarist, Sonny Greenwich.
