From a very young age until present time, Warren plays many different instruments which include the vibraphone/marimba, drumset/percussion, and the piano/keyboards. As a youth, Warren attended the Peabody Preparatory of The John Hopkins Institute in Baltimore, MD where he studied with former Baltimore Symphony Member Leo LePage. While at Peabody, Warren played many popular styles of music which included Classical, Jazz, and Ragtime. After graduating from The Baltimore School for the Arts in the spring of 1997, Warren headed north and enrolled at Berklee College of Music. At Berklee, Warren studied with Caribbean Jazz Project Vibist Dave Samuels. While he studied at Berklee he began to experiment with many different music styles, outside of jazz and classical, such as hip-hop, r&b, drum-n-bass, funk, rock, gospel, world music, Latin and many others. During his time at Berklee, Warren had the opportunity to play at the legendary jazz club Wallys Caf to help broaden his skills. After years of training at Berklee and sitting in with musicians at Wallys, Warren landed the weekend gig at the club for the next three years playing drums. Warren co-lead a quintet with trumpeter Jason Palmer at Wallys. Being at Berklee, Warren had the chance to play and record with many of the worlds best musicians. Some musicians include; Wynton Marsalis and the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra, Nicholas Payton, Mulgrew Miller, Lewis Nash, Christian McBride, Terri-Lyne Carrington, Jeremy Pelt, Bobby Watson, Tim Warfield, Adonis Rose and many others. Warren also performs on the piano in the Rachael Price Quartet. Warren had recorded one record as a leader. INCREDIBLE JAZZ VIBES was recorded on the Japanese label M I Records. That record features Mulgrew Miller on piano alongside Vicente Archer on Bass and Kendrick Scott on Drums. Warren can also be heard on recordings by drummer Adonis Rose (On The Verge-CRISSCROSS), trumpeter Jeremy Pelt (Identity-(MAXJAZZ)), and the new Bobby Watson Group Live Learn (From The Heart-Palmetto Records) which features Harold O'Neal on Piano, Curtis Lundy on Bass, Quincy Davis on Drums and Leron Thomas on Trumpet. People who are interested in should consider this download.
