Por muchos años se presentó en varios programas de televisión y radio latinoamericana, al igual que en varios hoteles y centros nocturnos de renombre internacional. Durante esta época grabó para las compañías discográficas RCA Victor, United Artists, Epic y Columbia/CBS (Sony). No obstante, fue durante un momento de crisis personal, mientras cantaba en México con el Tro Los Panchos, y el continuo uso de las drogas afectaba su matrimonio y carrera artística, que David hizo la mejor decisión de su vida, al entregarle su corazón a Jesucristo. Hoy día, por la gracia de Dios, David es un cantante cristiano, predicador y maestro de la Biblia. Ha sido un invitado especial en el conocido programa de televisión, The 700 Club, de la cadena televisiva CBN del Dr. Pat Robertson, al igual que en otros programas de radio y televisión, incluyendo Trinity Broadcasting Network. Es Ministro Ordenado del Concilio General de Las Asambleas de Dios y un invitado frecuente de La Fraternidad Internacional de Los Hombres Cristianos de Negocios, cuyo propósito es el de presentarle el evangelio a profesionales y otros ejecutivos de altos niveles, gobernantes y, con frecuencia, presidentes de varios países. Aunque, tal vez, más conocido como el cantante del famoso cntico, "El Ticket", y un respetado cantante y compositor dentro de la música cristiana, David es, también, un elocuente predicador del evangelio, conferencista, intérprete y maestro de la Palabra de Dios. Posee una Maestría en Divinidad del distinguido seminario teológico, Union Theological Seminary, afiliado a Columbia University y ha enseñado en varias instituciones teológicas. Además, es un dinámico autor y ha escrito para varias revistas, incluyendo "Decision Magazine" del Dr. Billy Graham. Actualmente, David mantiene su residencia en Nueva Jersey, donde vive con su esposa e hijos y de donde dirige su ministerio evangelístico, David Ortiz Ministries.
