A MILLON, Jimmys 4th solo record release is scheduled to hit the streets, stores and airwaves in late April or Early May, 2009. On this record, he introduces yet another lead vocalist, a true young Sonero from Puerto Rico. He also presents a female, singing lead on one track. And if that's not enough, he wrote and sang a Bolero himself on this production. A powerful song about the love between a mother and her son, audiences will no doubt be moved by its delivery and its sincerity. People worldwide refer to Bosch as Salsas Brutal Trombone, a real person, awesome, extraordinary, most expressive, great soloist, etc. Considered one of today's most important composers/lyricists in Salsa music, his songs are thought provoking, educational, inspiring, socially reflective and even comedic. His ability to conquer the rhythmic complexities with his heartfelt and gifted trombone playing styles has placed him in the Royal Court of the music world, covering the Salsa, Latin Jazz and World music genres. Appearing on over 70 recordings, Bosch has made records and/or toured with his 11 piece band as well as with Israel Cachao Lopez, Ruben Blades and Son del Solar, Celia Cruz, Ray Barretto, Willie Colon, Manny Oquendo y Libre, Paquito D'Rivera, Oscar De Leon, Jose Alberto El Canario, Marc Anthony, FANIA Allstars, Eddie and Charlie Palmieri, Steve Turre, Incognito, Spanish Harlem Orchestra, Jon Faddis, Arturo O'Farril and the list goes on. Bosch is and shall continue to be hailed by international audiences and critics for his magical ability to impart his contagious passion and spirit to the masses both live and through his recordings. Born in 1959 and raised in a Puerto Rican household, Jimmy is a genuine artist who's been performing professionally since age 13, starting just two years after picking up the trombone. Jimmy's first two solo CDs, Soneando Trombn and Salsa Dura established him as the Ambassador of the Salsa Dura movement. He ignited this movement by combining old school quality salsa arrangements with a modern NY aggressive edge and socially conscious lyrics. El Avin De La Salsa demonstrates and solidifies his commitment to keeping it raw and telling it like it is. Boschs music is inspirational. His 2009 release proves to do the same, only more intensely even. He has a special talent for getting his message across through great arrangements, hard driving rhythms, emphatic solos, swinging montunos and expressive words. Having performed for crowds as large as 150,000 in Montreal, Canada; over 110,000 in Sydney Festival at Domain Park, and 95,000 in Medelln, Colombia, Jimmy is a well-seasoned entertainer. As Jimmy continues to travel Globally with his band and as a soloist, he prepares the world for his most recent documentation of his heart, mind and soul on his 4th Salsa CD, A MILLON.
