Ambient soundscapes for your portable cortical theatre 11 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Ambient, ELECTRONIC: Soundscapes Details: From: Steven Date:4-99 Subject: Where'd I leave my head? I just got this Cd out of my mailbox it's been in my player for the last 3 hours and now I'm not sure I know where I am anymore our how I got here. This is the best indie Cd I've bought on-line (tothebone.com)it is a must have Keep up the good work.
From: melt moment function Date: Subject: I think I'll make this one my first on-line purchase!This is really one of the most expressive works I've heard yet on iuma.
Keep pushing that envelope!From: ALIEN TELEGRAPH Date: witheld Subject: ommited Phillip K.Dick!!! Nice, very nice blend of mystery and rhythm. Elusive and haunting Subject: Smoooth Its dark Its expressive Its my new best friend. Well at least a carcass I dressed up to look like my new best friend Date: Subject: Nice work Definately one of the best things I've heard in a long time. Is that a live drummer we hear? Lars Tngmark Subject: It's a brainblast When I heard "By the Flesh" I felt cold sweat on my back. Good work. I stay tuned !!!
From: Anonymous Date: Subject: you know what im thinking Subject: Cool but, I don't know if this is the best Cd I've gotten on-line, but I like it. These guys lull you in to a false sense of security, but there's something sinister under the surface, or is it the other way around? Nice to hear electronic stuff that ain't all about beats and ain't just the same song over and over again.
This is the self titled Psychic Enemies Network debut. It was the first release from Skin and Barrel music. (1998) Matt A. Thorne and John Thorne have since appeared on "Fez Dispenser" "Fez Dispenser 2- This is Trip-bop" "Tambor Y Bajo" "Para Helion" and "Around the world with Mr Griddles" John Thorne's digital artwork is incredible! Check it out at
