Horror Rawkillbilly/Industrial Psychobilly/Gothabilly 20 MP3 Songs ROCK: Rockabilly, ELECTRONIC: Industrial Details: Sinister vocal distortion over menacing guitar twang...whacky horror movie sound bites...songs about truckers,murderers, zombies, andrednecks...Psycho Charger havetheir bases covered. - Rue Morgue Magazine N.Y.C.'s Bloodiest band and the Bastard Sons of The King hisself, PSYCHO CHARGER, deliver an ultra-Horrific death-march thru the rotting R'n'R graveyard that's been described as "Horror rawkillbilly"!!! Digging up influences from Rockabilly, industrial, punk, surf, and gothic, these N.Y.C. psycho-rockers provide a horror-influenced, mutant cross-bred psycho-industrial-rawk assault that kicks and flails like a pissed-off two-headed bastard child at a family reunion!!! This is truly evil heavy-twang hell rock from the righteous side of the Devil's trailer park!!! In the time the band has been together, they have appeared on numerous compilations, on TV spots for Spike TV, and have played shows on both the east and west coast, sharing the stage with many nationally touring bands. Psycho Charger recently headlined the "Bring Out Your Dead" music festival in London, England. "Curse of the Psycho" Weighs in at a full 20 tracks of the bands very own Horror Rawkillbilly, the CD comes packaged in a special limited-edition LP Style package, including a vinyl look CD and jacket artwork by famed artistUnkle Pigors of Toxic Toons (Metallica, Murderdolls). Crossing the genres of psychobilly, industrial, surf, punk, and gothic, PSYCHO CHARGER cross a huge chunk of the rock n roll spectrum. Curse of the Psycho is a screaming testament in which the band showcases their musical aptitude, energy, and love for B-movie horror!
