URBAN/R&B: R&B Pop Crossover, BLUES: Rhythm Blues Details: In less than 20 minutes, his life was changed forever... When Hurricane Katrina hit, Eric Arceneaux and his family were trapped in an attic for three days in temperatures of over 100 degrees. It was a very humbling experience. After being rescued from the rooftop by helicopter, my family and I had to literally fight through a mob of scared and angry people in order to get onto a bus to take us to shelter. It was like being in hell. On top of everything, we lost one of my very close relatives at our hotel in Houston - her heart was unable to handle the stress of the ordeal. All of his possessions gone; He started a new life. More than ever he realized just how powerful music was as a means of healing and a way of release. Katrina has driven the point home to Eric that you never know what's gonna happen. So now I feel like this, no more waiting; I'm making my dreams happen now!" Overseas Eric is being heralded as "The Voice," with a sound reminiscent of both Brian McKnight and Mariah Carey. His music effortlessly blends Classical, Blues, R&B, Pop and Hip-Hop to create a unique style. His debut album, Audio Emotion, offers a refreshing change to the current norm with eleven tracks filled with beautiful live instrumentation. World renowned industry vocal coach, Brett Manning, has referred to Eric's singing as the perfect combination of technical skill and emotional connection. Having written every song on his album, Eric aims to show his listeners who he truly is and that he's here to stay.
