Details: Collapse Under The Empire is an instrumental/post-rock band from Hamburg/Germany. They formed 2007 and released their debut album "Systembreakdown" (2009) on their own. Most of the songs are alternating between electro-bleeps and powerful guitar explosions; its both disturbing and seductive. As with Collapse Under The Empires debut EP "Paintball" theyve succeeded their specific post rock sound, combining epic guitars with chilled electronic elements and a portion melancholic mood. In one year's time they have self-released their debut LP Systembreakdown, It displays acute instrumental sensibility, using pianos and synths with guitar-battering crescendos. Systembreakdown may only be about 40 minutes long with no nine-minute epic, but it packs a lot of beauty and emotion. Nevertheless Collapse Under The Empire stick to their own style and do not want to emerge as a knock-off. With their mixture of instrumental post-rock they are trying to make a cut above the uniform pulp and put their own stamp on it.
