Bunny Hull Hull, a Grammy Award winning songwriter, began writing children's music and books to make a difference in the lives of children 4 to 10. Three National Parenting Publication Awards, a Dr. Toy Award and a Parent's Guide To Children's Media Award later, she continues to fill a need for children by creating educational tools and conducting workshops which offer parents, teachers and kids an original and entertaining approach to positive self-development using music as the key. Hull believes, "More important than teaching a child what to think is teaching them how to think. I believe learning to look at the world as a place filled with endless possibility expands a child's horizon's and paves the way for a life that will rise up to meet them. My children's music and books work to teach children that no matter who they are or where they come from they can use the creative potential that lies in each of them to make a difference in their own lives and in the lives of others." Having won a Grammy Award for her song "New Attitude" by Patti LaBelle, Hull has performed with scores of greats that include Quincy Jones, Ricky Martin, Michael Jackson, Celine Dion and Vanessa Williams. Hull's music regularly featured in film, television and advertising, including Jenny Craig, "The Prince of Egypt" and most recently Universal's "Bruce Almighty", turned it's focus to children with multicultural label Kids Creative Classics 10 years ago when she began looking for ways to give back the joy she received from her own creative process. Hull's song "Ready For A Miracle" recorded by Patti LaBelle and Edwin Hawkins is featured as the end title theme for Universal's recent #1 Film "Bruce Almighty".
