DANN GLENN Symphony No. 5 (The Alaska Symphony) This is the fifth work in a series of six symphonies by Glenn and the third in the Digital series. The composer spent much of his childhood living in Alaska. In this grand piece of work, befitting the land it is named after, Glenn uses a completely tonal approach to celebrate his memories from "The Land of the Midnight Sun." Lush, majestic, movements take the listener on a journey of cobalt-blue snowcapped mountains, glaciers on the move, the aurora borealis, and whales escorting ships through the waterways. Symphony No. 5 is a truly epic work that captures the pristine beauty of a place called...Alaska. Written and Performed by Dann Glenn Produced and Mastered by: Jon Pomplin Cover Art: Carey Miller Declassified Records
