Details: About Bruce and Don: We're two friends who met in the late 60's as teens, and began our musical journey by entertaining around a camp fire. The next day, and for a few years, we recorded our parts sound-on-sound with a 2-track reel-to-reel tape deck. Recently we started up again using digital audio workstations. This is our first CD, a compilation of some of our best tunes over the years -- many written in 2008. It's simple: listeners can relive their childhood or explore new realms through our ascending notation progressions. Everything is on the "up and up." We've had nothing but happy and fun compliments on this first journey together. Why the "Long Distance Music" title? We live in different states but composed music together via the Internet. Using our digital audio studios, we created and sent audio files to each other by email, then added overdubs. We used snail mail to send musical parts that required more critical fidelity. In short, the 14 months spent on perfecting the data brought us closer together musically. During this project we spoke on the phone three times...WHAT ? ONLY THREE TIMES ??? Both our wives are named Jennie and Jenny... they both approve so far. See you next disc... Don, Bruce, Jenny and Jennie People who are interested in Jimi Hendrix The Moody Blues Pat Metheny should consider this download.
