Details: The Highway Beautiful is the pseudonym of singer/songwriter Jason Jurewicz. As a multi-talented instrumentalist, Jason performs most, and on some songs all, of the instruments on his albums. His debut album, The Things that Lights Can Hide won Jason Pop Male Vocalist of the Year at the 2006 L.A. Music Awards along with a hometown honor of Best New Original Band at the Buffalo Music Awards in Buffalo, NY. Songs from this album also aired on MTV, The Oxygen Network and Discovery Health. The Highway Beautifuls latest release, Love Letters, Soapboxes and Dirty Laundry is a progression of ideas, both musical and lyrical. Falling into the self-defined genre of Intelligent Pop, Jasons vocals and an acoustic guitar form a foundation for Dirty Laundry to seamlessly wander through eclectic instrumentation. Dixieland bands, Old World-inspired breakdowns, complete with clarinet and accordion, slide guitar, banjo and harmonica are sprinkled throughout giving the album a uniquely refreshing and welcoming sound. Dirty Laundry relates to people on an emotional level by getting in their heads and making them think about who they are as they relate to the world around them. The lyrics raise questions about what is taken for granted and illustrate Jasons beliefs, hurts and triumphs all the while leaving the listener with a sense of hope.
