A recording of percussion music made with middle eastern, tribal, belly dance and fire spinning in mind, there are a lot of drums on each track and it was recorded to give a feeling of a tight drum/percussion troop using mostly eastern drums 13 MP3 Songs WORLD: World Fusion, WORLD: Middle East Details: "Poi for Gadge" is a percussive journey of an eastern styled drum troop with voices of haunting and firey drums singing the textures of ancient rhythms. The vision is of tribal dancing and fire swirling around shadowy figures in the night. All hand drums are played by David Macejka and the track names are the names of the rhythms used on that track, so it's a good way to get acquainted with these traditional rhythms.
